Sarasota, Florida – January 2012 – Sarasota Rotary awarded Community Haven for Adults and Children with Disabilities, Inc. a generous grant contribution for the important work their Selby Preschool does for local children with different disabilities. The Kidspot an agency who has partnered with Community Haven for over 25 yrs. will provide the vital services for children who need physical, occupational and speech therapies. Community Haven’s Interim President and CEO Marla Doss accepted the generous donation from Sean Skinner of the Sarasota Rotary Foundation.

“These therapies are what give our children a strong foundation for tremendous growth in their first years of life. Early intervention is crucial, we see how they thrive and grow with that attention and their skills strengthen.” stated Doss who has seen her fair share of miracles in her 26 years at Community Haven. “We would not be able to continue to provide these services to our folks without the support of groups like the Sarasota Rotary, we are so very grateful.”

“Community Haven has been in Sarasota for 58 years, a private agency dedicated to serving individuals with a variety of disabilities. This grass roots organization was founded by parents of children with special needs, who had nowhere to turn but to each other for support and assistance for their loved ones. Community Haven provides support services from Preschool to High School High Tech to Adult Training and Job Coaching services and more.
